

Wagner SS 6

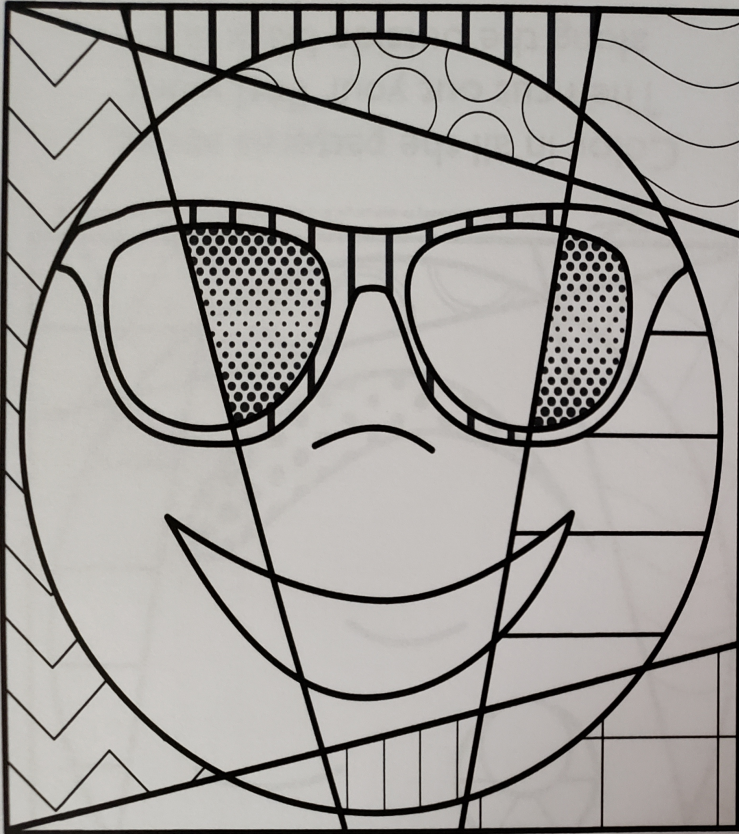

Days 22-31

With everything going on in our lives today, we are all full of different emotions. In the technical world we can express those emotions with Emojis. Attached you will find different emoji for different emotions. On the bottom of the page, there are patterns that you can use to draw in the emoji's to decorate and color them.

Each day, I want you to watch something on television, something on PBS, your favorite show, the news, etc. After you watch, pick an emoji that expresses how you feel about the program you just say. Decorate and color it, and then on the back, write 2-3 sentences about what you watched and why you picked the emoji.

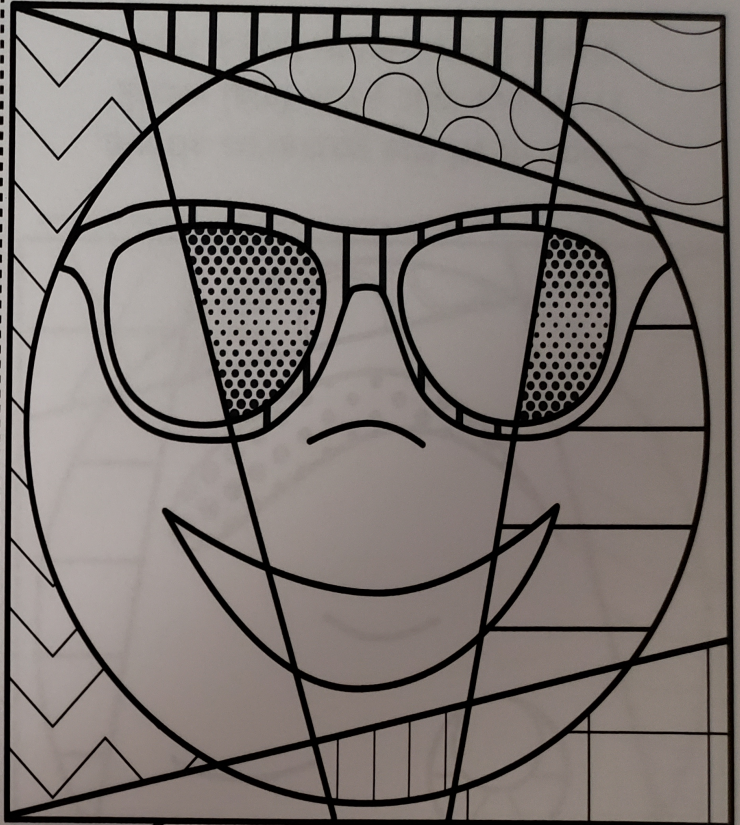

I hope you all are doing well and have a wonderful summer break since I will not get to see you before then. I look forward to seeing you next school year.
